

One of the best things to happen regarding telephones is the NJ Do Not Call List. Finally, I'm able to have dinner without obnoxious telemarketers, and I don't have to worry about my older friends who just might be taken in by unscrupulous individuals attempting to "steal" anything they can from the elderly. The NJ law must stay in place, as it provides necessary safeguards against unwanted "home and privacy invasions".